

Frequently Asked Questions

1. What's included in the publishing fee? 1
2. What is the difference between traditional publishing and self-publishing? 2
3. Why should I use Grosvenor House Publishing to publish my book? 2
4. What exactly is typesetting? 2
5. Do the typesetters make text alterations? 3
6. What if my book has a word count of more than your standard 100,000? .. 3
7. How much would it cost to publish a short children's book? 3
8. Does Grosvenor House Publishing publish just fiction? 3
9. Does Grosvenor House Publishing just publish books in English? 3
10. Do I need to provide an ISBN? 3
11. Does Grosvenor House Publishing offer proof-reading/editing services? ... 4
12. Can I publish a colour book? 4
13. Can I publish in paperback and hardback? 4
14. Do you want to see my work before you accept me for publication? 4
15. How do I get my book materials to Grosvenor House Publishing? 5
16. What if I don't have cover images? 5
17. Can I include images inside my book? 5
18. Will I see proofs of my book as you proceed with typesetting? 6
19. Do I see a physical copy of my book before it is published? 6
20. How do I decide on the retail price of my book? 6
21. Will the book price be printed on the back cover? 7
22. How many copies of my book will you print? 7
23. Where will my book be stocked? How will it be distributed? 7
24. What if I don't want my book to be made available for sale? 8
25. Is my book just printed in the UK? 8

26. Do I need to send a copy of my book to the British Library?	8
27. Can I also publish my book as eBooks?	8
28. When do I get royalties?	8
29. I'm ready to go ahead. What do I do next?	9

1. What's included in the publishing fee?

We at Grosvenor House Publishing have worked very hard to offer you, the author, a comprehensive, affordable and quality alternative to the all too often frustrating world of conventional publishing. We offer the following services to enable you to realise your dream of becoming a published author.

You will receive all of the following:

- Full text typesetting of your manuscript - professional typesetters will manually layout your book in high resolution, ready for print.
- High resolution typesetting of your cover - your book cover front, spine, back, and inner flap text (if dust jacket), will be typeset in high resolution ready for print.
- A pdf proof copy of your book followed by your cover proof will be emailed to you for approval prior to going to print.
- Five complimentary printed copies of your new book - upon receipt of your approval, your book will be sent to press and five books will be with you within 7-10 working days.
- An ISBN number - International Standard Book Number. Your book will have its own ISBN number assigned which will enable you to sell it via any bookstore or internet site.
- Online distribution to all major online retailers and wholesalers for one year which is then renewable for £39.00 for one year or £68.00 for two.
- Placed on legal deposit with the six UK National Libraries - not just the British Library.
- Ability to order copies of your book - starting from just one copy! Print on demand (POD) allows you to order further copies of your book with no minimum order. Just let us know the quantity required and we will send you a wholesale printing and shipping quote.

2. What is the difference between traditional publishing and self-publishing?

A traditional publisher is interested in publishing books that will generate income for both themselves and the author. Their initial costs will be high; they have a full quota of staff to proofread, edit, typeset, QA check, review and administer every aspect of the publishing process. They also have sales and marketing contacts that will ensure their books are exposed to a highly competitive marketplace. The author puts their book into the hands of the publisher who may wish to make changes to the book or the way it is marketed that are not in keeping with the author's original vision, based on what they believe will work best in the marketplace.

Self-publishing allows any author to publish their book and, for a comparatively small outlay, will receive a good quality product which they are free to market themselves. Self-publishing companies place the responsibility with the author for checking each proof as it arrives back from being typesetters, rather than doing this in-house, therefore keeping overhead costs low. This ensures that the author remains in control of their book and its content at all times. Once published, books will be enabled for distribution with major online retailers and wholesalers; ensuring that authors do not need to be involved in fulfilling customer orders, leaving them free to market the book on their chosen platforms.

3. Why should I use Grosvenor House Publishing to publish my book?

Grosvenor House Publishing (GHP) is one of the most successful self-publishing companies in the UK. Based in Surrey, GHP prides itself on its customer service with friendly 'real people' who will gently guide you through the publishing process and help you with any queries you may have along the way. The company was founded in 2006 by two frustrated authors, Kim Cross and Jason Kosbab, who found it very difficult to get their books published in the traditional way. They saw that there was a demand for professional, uncomplicated and inexpensive self-publishing services and started their own company. Since then, GHP has successfully published over 2,000 titles, a few of which have become bestsellers. Please see testimonials from some of our authors on our website:

<https://grosvenorhousepublishing.co.uk/testimonials/>

4. What exactly is typesetting?

It is the typesetter's job to convey the text and images of the document in a visually pleasing form ready for print. This includes making sure that the text is accurately distributed, that the different font sizes are specified in a coherent way, that the correct justification and fonts are selected, etc. The most important aspect of typesetting is the readability of the text.

5. Do the typesetters make text alterations?

No. The typesetters will use Adobe InDesign to typeset your text exactly as it has been sent to us and will not correct any spelling or grammatical errors. If you feel that this is necessary, you may want to consider having your manuscript copy-edited or proofread first. (See point 11.)

6. What if my book has a word count of more than 100,000?

We can publish books of 100,000+ words for the following prices:

Word count of manuscript	Publishing price
100,001 - 150,000	£ 995.00
150,001 - 200,000	£1,195.00
200,001 - 250,000	£1,395.00
250,001 - 300,000	£1,595.00
300,001+	£1,795.00

7. How much would it cost to publish a short children's book?

Given the high image content in children's books there is often more work involved in this style of book, so we maintain our usual pricing structure for children's books. However, if your artwork is professionally produced in the format we require (InDesign, high resolution jpegs in the correct size and running order), then we may be able to include the cost of the images within the price (see point 17 for the usual charges). Please discuss this with us.

8. Does Grosvenor House Publishing only publish fiction?

GHP publishes books of all genres such as self-help, scientific, reference, religious, autobiography and biography, history as well as children's books and cookery books to name a few. We will not publish any book that contains pornography or includes any incitement to violence, racism or terrorism.

9. Does Grosvenor House Publishing only publish books in English?

We have published books in Spanish, Portuguese and French. We will consider any Latin-based language as long as our typesetters have access to the necessary fonts. Sample pages of any foreign language book would need to be sent to us to assess.

10. Do I need to provide an ISBN?

We allocate an ISBN to your title as part of our publishing package.

11. Does Grosvenor House Publishing offer proof-reading/editing services and what is the difference between the two?

We offer two optional services of either proofreading at £5.00 per 1,000 words or copyediting and proofreading with price upon application on receipt of your full manuscript. All of our editors and proofreaders are professionals with both qualifications and experience and all will work on a manuscript using Microsoft Word Track Changes. We will return your manuscripts with instructions on how to accept or reject each suggested change along with a 'cleaned' version with all suggested changes accepted.

Proofreading consists of checking and correcting the spelling, grammar and punctuation of a written manuscript as well as the consistency of style.

Copyediting further includes suggesting re-wording to improve the flow of text, checking facts and references and alerting the publisher and author of any possible legal implications. Proofreading is also included as part of the copyediting process.

For full details about proofreading and copyediting, please visit the CIEP website using the following links:

<https://www.ciep.uk/about/faqs/what-is-proofreading/>
<https://www.ciep.uk/about/faqs/what-is-copyediting/>

12. Can I publish a colour book?

Yes. Publishing in black & white or in colour does not affect the initial publishing cost. However, the cost of printing in colour is more expensive than black & white and any book that includes colour is classified and priced as a colour book. Colour books are digitally printed on 105gsm white paper.

13. Can I publish in paperback and hardback?

Your publishing fee includes just one format i.e. paperback OR hardback. If you would like your book published in both formats, there will be an additional charge of £100. This includes a second ISBN, online distribution, copies sent to the six national libraries and one copy sent to you.

14. Do you want to see my work before you accept me for publication?

Not necessarily, although it is important that both you and GHP are happy with the standard of work that will be put into the public domain. If we do not think your work is ready to be published, we will offer our advice on how you can improve it.

15. How do I get my book materials to Grosvenor House Publishing?

Once we have received your contract and payment we will ask you to send your contract and payment. Once received we will invite you to submit your book materials and will supply you with a link to our online fileshare server. This means that files of any size can be sent. We will give full guidance about this process.

The complete text of your book should be in one Microsoft Word document. Any images for the covers should be scanned in at 300 dpi to the size required on the page and submitted in jpeg or tiff format. As before, if your files are too large to send as an email attachment, we can send you a link to a fileshare server where you can upload them. Alternatively, they can be posted to us on CD or USB memory stick.

16. What if I don't have cover images?

If you require an image for your book's cover then, for a small fee of around £10-£30, you can purchase the rights to use royalty-free images from a number of different websites, including the following with whom we hold accounts:

www.iStockPhoto.com
www.123rf.com
(more sites available on request)

If you would prefer us to source an image for you please let us have an exact description of what you are looking for.

If you search elsewhere for images online please be careful. Generally you will usually have to get permission to use them from the copyright holder, which is not always possible, and the resolution of these online images may not be high enough to reproduce in printed format. Stick to approved sites for images and you will be fine.

17. Can I include images inside my book?

The cost of any images required on the inside pages of the book is an additional £5 per image for 1-30, £4 for 31-50 and £3 for 51-99. If you have more than 100 images we can send you a price on application. Images will need to be uploaded separately and for the typesetters to know where you would like them positioned, you will also need to embed them in your manuscript or provide image placement instructions with your manuscript. If the images require captions these should be sent on a separate Word document along with the image filename to which each caption applies.

18. Will I see proofs of my book as you proceed with typesetting?

Yes, we will send you electronic proofs in pdf format throughout the process and these can be read using Adobe Acrobat Reader software. If you don't already have this installed, it can be downloaded from here <https://get.adobe.com/reader/>.

The first pdf file you will receive will be a sample proof of the first few pages of your book so that you can check that you are happy with the general layout and fonts etc. before the full interior proof is typeset. There will be no charge for making any changes at this stage.

You will then receive the first full proof of the interior. If you have any amendments at this stage, there is a minimum charge of £35, or £35 per hour, to get these corrected and we will send you a revised proof for approval. As soon as the interior proof has been approved, a pdf proof of your cover will be produced and sent on to you for approval.

19. Do I see a physical copy of my book before it is published?

This is highly recommended but not mandatory. We would normally send your book to press and order your first five complimentary copies. However, if you pick up any errors from these, we may need to charge you a £35 amendment fee (depending on the number of corrections required) and it will cost £70 to upload a revised print file (either cover or interior) to the printers.

In order to avoid these charges, we will encourage you to order an 'advance copy' of your book prior to publication. This will cost approximately £26 (paperback books) or £32 (hardback books) and will negate the £70 file upload fee should you need to make any changes.

20. How do I decide on the retail price (RRP) of my book?

When pricing your book, you will need to consider the cost of printing plus the industry standard 40% wholesaler/retailer listing fee. Deducting these from your RRP will give you the royalty you can expect.

For example, if you decided upon a retail price of £10.00 it would be calculated thus on a black & white paperback with 250 pages:

RRP: £10.00

Minus print cost: £4.13 (£1.63 per cover plus 1p per page)

Minus wholesaler/retailer 40% discount: £4.00

Royalty: £1.87

21. Will the book price be printed on the back cover?

We don't do this as standard since, if the book price is changed, there are costs of £35 to revise the cover proof and £70 to upload the revised proof to the printers. However, we can include the price on request.

22. How many copies of my book will you print?

As part of your publishing agreement we will print five copies and send these to you at no extra charge. This is regardless of whether you have a paperback or hardback book, colour or black & white. If you have opted to print your book in both paperback and hardback, you will receive one copy of your secondary option. After this your book(s) will be available to order on a print-on-demand basis, both to you as the author and to the retailers and wholesalers who will order directly from the printers when required.

23. Where will my book be stocked? How will it be distributed?

Included in the publishing fee is one year's free listing on all major international retail websites such as Book Depository (Amazon's book subsidiary), Amazon Marketplace (.co.uk), Amazon.com, Waterstones, Foyles and Barnes & Noble. Your book will also be listed with Nielsen Book Data and the wholesaler Gardners. These listings are renewable after your first free year at a cost of £39 for one year or £68 for two and we will email to remind you to renew in plenty of time.

There will be no physical stock of your book held automatically by online retailers or high street bookshops but it will be readily available as a print-on-demand title and all retailers will order copies in as required by their customers via their wholesaler/POD.

Amazon listings: Amazon may choose to send your book's data out to more of their international sites, but we cannot guarantee this. Additionally Amazon's algorithms mean that they will only list POD books with a proven sales record, so may not initially list your book for sale directly from them, although their Marketplace sellers will have it listed. However, when your book starts to sell, Amazon's algorithms will recognise this (regardless of where it is selling) and will add their own 'Buy Button', often ordering in stock to hold in their own fulfilment centres. GHP has no influence over Amazon's lead times and can only advise on Amazon's latest listings strategies.

You should note that your book's metadata (price, ISBN, description etc) will be sent out to all retailers via our distributors Lightning Source. However, this does not guarantee that the individual retailers will list the book on their websites - although the majority do.

24. What if I don't want my book to be made available for sale?

Just let us know this and we will ensure that your book is only available to order by you, the author, on what is called a 'Short Run' basis. If you decide later to put it on general release, this can be easily done free of charge for the first year.

25. Is my book just printed in the UK?

No, our printers have plants in the UK, US and Australia and Global Connect print partners in Poland, Russia, Germany and Brazil and will shortly include Japan and South Korea. International orders will be picked up via distribution channels and printed in the nearest available facility.

26. Do I need to send a copy of my book to the British Library?

No, we will send copies of your book to all six national libraries (The British Library, Bodleian Libraries of the University of Oxford, Cambridge University Library, The National Library of Scotland, The Library of Trinity College Dublin and The National Library of Wales) as part of the publishing package.

27. Can I also publish my book as eBooks?

We can convert your printed book to eBooks for £195 or publish eBooks only for £495. For published books, we would convert your final approved print files into two different formats: one format for Amazon's Kindle eReader devices and another for all other eReader devices such as iPad, iPhone, Sony eReader, Kobo, Nook. Once completed, the eBook files and metadata are sent to Faber Factory for global distribution to all eBook retailers. Please let us know if you require further information.

28. When and how do I get royalties?

Royalties are calculated twice a year and payments sent out by the end of June and December. Any royalties owed of under £10 will be rolled over to the next period, so if you don't receive a statement then you can assume your earnings have not reached this threshold.

Royalty payments are usually sent by cheque, accompanied by a statement of sales, including eBooks if applicable. If you prefer to receive your royalty payment by bank transfer then please let us have the following information and we will arrange this for you:

Account name / Account number / Sort code

If you wish your royalties to be paid to someone else, please email info@grosvenorhousepublishing with the details of the third party and we will set this up for you.

29. I'm ready to go ahead. What do I do next?

Please complete pages 1, 6 and 7 of our Publishing Agreement and send us two copies of these, along with your payment. If you prefer to do this electronically, please scan the three pages and email to info@grosvenorhousepublishing.co.uk and request our bank details to make a transfer.

Once we have received your contract and payment we will invite you to send us your book materials and will guide you through the whole process from thereon in.

If you have a question which isn't covered in these FAQs, please don't hesitate to contact us by phone on 020 8339 6060 or email info@grosvenorhousepublishing.co.uk.